

Industrial Design Internship at Evolve Collaborative

Job Type: Full-time (temporary)

Location: Portland, OR

This is a paid internship

Let's make something meaningful...

Are you highly curious, a strong storyteller, and equally happy thinking as well as making? Evolve is collaborative by design, which creates an ideal environment for you to work on a range of projects and develop your skills by learning from some of the best in the industry. We believe that true innovation is a result of diverse perspectives, and encourage designers from all backgrounds to apply.

Internships at Evolve provide broad exposure across multiple product and service categories. You will be actively involved on live project work ranging from tactical product-to-market projects through to strategic design programs focused on future innovation.

What to expect

- Exposure to a range of tools (Rhino, Keyshot, and Adobe Creative Suite)
- Hands-on sketching, prototyping, and thinking through making
- Uncovering insights and generating concepts to help us drive projects forward
- Participating in client meetings and presentations
- Being a full member of an interdisciplinary team (we don't do intern projects)

Internships at Evolve are mutually beneficial, we look forward to leveraging your past experiences and providing opportunities for you to learn and grow.

How to apply

- Currently enrolled in or a recent graduate of accredited University in Interaction Design, Communication Design, HCI or equivalent
- A portfolio, process samples or an online portfolio demonstrating experience in web, mobile or dedicated device UI.
- A cover letter that describes your goals for your internship with us
- A current resume (CV)

No candidate will be considered without providing work samples or case studies.
